
Name

Date

Score

SET 7	usage	marginal	logical	characterization	client
	ethical	longitudinal	insect	calculus	neutral

No.	Sentence
1	The biologist placed the unknown _____ under a microscope to examine its wings, legs, and segmented body more carefully.
2	Her explanation was clear and _____, moving from evidence to conclusion without making unsupported assumptions.
3	Many engineering students find _____ difficult at first because it requires them to think about continuous change and accumulation.
4	The dictionary records current _____, but it does not always explain why certain expressions sound natural in real conversation.
5	A _____ study follows the same participants over several years, making it useful for tracking development and long-term change.
6	The mediator remained _____ throughout the dispute, refusing to support either side before all the evidence had been reviewed.
7	The profit increase was only _____, so the company could not justify opening another branch immediately.
8	The lawyer met with her _____ to discuss the risks of accepting the settlement before the trial began.
9	The novel’s subtle _____ of its main character makes readers gradually understand his fear, ambition, and moral weakness.
10	Researchers must consider _____ issues carefully when collecting personal data from children or vulnerable adults.