

|                  |           |          |             |          |       |
|------------------|-----------|----------|-------------|----------|-------|
| SET1 | pastor    | scope    | layout      | harsh    | ray   |
|                  | mandatory | imprison | operational | glorious | noble |

| No. | Sentence                                                                                                                                        |
|-----|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1   | After months of poor planning, the design team finally changed the office _____ so that staff could collaborate without constant noise.         |
| 2   | Because several witnesses were threatened before the trial, the judge decided to _____ the defendant until the full investigation was complete. |
| 3   | The mountain village looked almost unreal at sunrise, with a single golden _____ breaking through the clouds above the valley.                  |
| 4   | The school's new safety course is not optional; for every laboratory student, attendance is now completely _____.                               |
| 5   | Although the charity received little publicity, many residents described the volunteer's decision to risk his life as truly _____.              |
| 6   | The factory is not fully automated yet, but the main production line became _____ after the engineers replaced the damaged control system.      |
| 7   | The committee rejected the proposal because its financial analysis was too narrow in _____ to justify such a large investment.                  |
| 8   | The new manager's feedback was technically accurate, but his tone sounded unnecessarily _____ during a meeting with junior staff.               |
| 9   | During the memorial service, the local _____ spoke about forgiveness, courage, and the responsibility of rebuilding trust.                      |
| 10  | For the athlete, winning after three years of injury was a _____ moment that restored her reputation internationally.                           |